

General

I am diabetic since last 7 years, (on insulin since last one year), Have undergone angioplasty in Feb 2017. There are no medical illness options except only writing once. Why can't you have additional illness options in your drop down option?

This is a general list of certain specified illnesses for which most of the insurers do not provide coverage. So, just to show you suitable insurance plans, the list is provided at this step. You can select either one or when you fill the online insurance proposal form; you will have the option to mention both.
