Portability

I am currently covered under group health insurance along with my family members. Can I switch to an individual or family floater plan?

Yes, with the launch of health insurance portability from 1st october,2011,you can switch from group health policy to individual or family floater with the same insurer and after one year, you can avail portability as applicable for other individual or family floater policies.

Unique solution ID: #1171

Author:

Last update: 1970-01-01 01:00