

Claim Process

Can I continue my treatment of the disease which happened during my travel abroad, in the home country, after expiry of my policy?

If the Third Party Administrator (TPA) advises that the continued treatment in the republic of India is appropriate, then the company will pay the medical expenses incurred in India for the same illness/injury contracted abroad following the transportation to India, for a maximum period of time varying from company to company from the date of return to the Republic of India, provided that the illness/injury is sustained or contracted within the period of insurance during the trip abroad.

Unique solution ID: #1034

Author:

Last update: 1970-01-01 01:00